“ I so enjoyed talking with my Uncle Wilton after my dad passed away. He was a wonderful storyteller of the old days in Little Rock. I know he and Aunt Sara are together again. He nursed her for years after her stroke. They were an example of true and lasting love. I am so fortunate to have him for my uncle...one of the greatest generation. My heart goes out to my cousins at this time of sorrow.

“ To the Family of Mr. Treadway,

Mr. Treadway was a long-standing attendee of the Slovak Knights of Columbus Annual Oyster Supper. Approx 40 years! It was a real pleasure to see him each year and catch up and listen to his stories. Such a great man who lived a full life. We will miss him!

“ Reunited with his love. My aunt Sara and Uncle Wilton were wonderful examples of a loving marriage. So glad I talked with Wilton on a regular basis after my dad, Cecil, passed away . The Treadway brothers had a very special relationship which lasted all their lives. Especially glad I saw Wilton last May when I was in Little Rock. Rest peacefully.
